To whom it may concern,

Letter of recommendation – Pip Brennan

I have had the privilege of mentoring Pip from 2021 to 2023 in the Four Centres Emerging Writers Program. Pip has shown tremendous dedication to the craft of writing over that period, developing her manuscript “Not His Story” extensively in response to feedback. Pip is the rare writer who puts in the necessary work to keep rewriting and improving. Her writing shows empathy for a range of characters and evokes different phases of life in Perth very well. It is writing with both purpose and aesthetics. I think Pip would be particularly good at running writing workshops and building community among writers. She meets people where they are and inspires them. I think Pip has the talent and commitment for further success in her writing career and I recommend her for opportunities which would allow further development, knowing she will appreciate them fully and give a lot back.

Yours sincerely,

Nathan Hobby
